

REPSOL MONTESA HONDA

FIM Trial World Championship
9th round. Grand Prix of Andorra.

Toni Bou on the podium again, leading the final stage of the championship with a 12-point advantage.

Sant Julià de Lòria (Andorra), 28.06.2009. - Toni Bou (Montesa Cota 4RT) was third in the Trial Grand Prix of Andorra, antepenultimate World Championship scoring event, held this Sunday. The Montesa rider will therefore reach the final stage of the championship leading the general classification with a 12-point advantage over his closest rival. Takahisa Fujinami (Montesa Cota 4RT) finished fourth, breaking his consecutive run of three second positions. Nevertheless, the Japanese rider has strengthened his third place in the general classification. Montesa still leads the classification by manufacturer, aiming directly for what will be their twelfth title.

Laia Sanz (Montesa Cota 4RT), who in the same scenario won the first event of a new edition of the Women's Trial World Championship yesterday, finished tenth today in the junior category, which was won by Alfredo Gómez (Montesa).

Toni Bou: "Twelve points advantage is good to have in view of the two very important events to go. I know that just to get a podium position in each of them will be enough to retain the title, but of course I'll try to win them. I think I didn't do too badly in this one, and the struggle with Adam has been as intense as usual, with a minimum difference at the end, but Jeroni was incredible and beat us both".

Takahisa Fujinami: "My result today had nothing to do with the three previous events. I made a lot of mistakes and I got the fourth position by a hair's breadth. In any case, the result isn't too bad for the general classification, as I'm still in third position".

The Trial World Championship will resume on September 6th in Tona (Barcelona) ending one week later in Isola 2000 (France).
